

At Loughborough University we believe strongly in protecting our users' privacy. We will not wilfully disclose information about our users to any third party without first receiving our users' consent.

This Privacy Policy sets out the privacy practices for the services offered on the LU Arts' website.

This Privacy Policy may be updated from time to time. You should check this page from time to time to ensure that you are happy with any changes.

Your Personal Information

All personal information you provide via the Website will be treated as private and confidential. Please see any pages where information is collected for further relevant information. Under the current data protection legislation our lawful basis for processing your personal data is consent; you have given consent for us to send you marketing material by subscribing to our mailing list either via our website or by filling out one of our forms at an event.

Signing up to our mailing list stores your data in Mailchimp, and appears as the data you have entered yourself. If you wish to unsubscribe, you can do so at any time using the unsubscribe links at the bottom of our newsletters.

LU Arts may compile data in aggregate form so that we may better understand users that visit the Website. Aggregate data is anonymous and does not contain any personal information that identifies users.

Sharing of Information

LU Arts will not sell, rent, trade or give away any user's personal information or email lists to third parties without first obtaining the user's consent.

If you ticked the 'Yes' box to receive postal newsletters when you subscribed to our mailing list, then at the time of organising a postal mailing, this data is exported from Mailchimp into a spreadsheet which is shared with an internal print and distribution team at Loughborough University who oversee our postal mailings. Your data is not used or stored by this team for any other purpose.

The Website contains links to other websites. LU Arts is not responsible for the privacy practices and/or the content of such websites. You should exercise caution and look at the privacy statement applicable to the website in question.

Contacting Us

If you have any questions or concerns about personal information you have supplied to LU Arts, please e-mail luarts@lboro.ac.uk.

You may request details of personal information which we hold about you under the current data protection legislation. If you would like a copy of the information held on you please email us at the above address.

If you believe that any information we are holding on you is incorrect or incomplete, please email us as soon as possible. We will promptly correct any information found to be incorrect. If you think there is a problem with the way in which we are handling your personal data and we have not resolved this problem to your satisfaction then you have the right to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office.
